PETERSBURG HAPPY.

The Farmers Take Some of the Pride Out of Lynchburg.

PETERSBURG, VA., April 30.-(Special.)-The weather this afternoon was anything but conducive to good ball-playing, being very cold and damp, but the faithful cranks who journeyed to the park were amply repaid for their tramp. Lynchburg's pets have been having very plain sailing in the race for championship honors, and it fell to the lot of the locals to check them, and right nobly did they accomplish this. They by no means had accomplish this. They by no means had an easy task. Quarles, one of the best twirlers in the State, was put in to do the little trick, but not being in the very best condition, he retired after the second inning in favor of Kitson. The Hill-Climbers are sluggers, if there are any in this league, and nothing was left for the Farmers except to defeat them at their own game, and a glance at the score will show they were equal to the occasion.

For six innings the game was one of the most exciting ever witnessed in this city. Petersburg took the lead in the first with four runs, blanking the visitors and scoring one more in the second. Right here the trouble began. A base on balls, three singles, a two-bagger, and a home run netted them six runs. Petersburg added four runs in the third, but were blanked in the fourth. Lynchburg scored two runs in the third and four in the fourth, taking the lead for the second the fourth, taking the lead for the second time. However, the cranks took things easy after the sixth inning, as the Farmers added two and five more, respectively, in the fifth and sixth. The visitors could not overcome this lead. Wilson replaced McFarland in the fifth inning, but he fared no better than his predecessor. The hitting of Brodie, Breen, and Shoita, and the fielding of WASHINGTON, April 30.-Ferbidding skies and a card of no weighty proportions were probably in part responsible for the rather mediocre attendance at Bennings to-day. NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

To Cure Nervous Dyspepsia, To Gain Flesh, To Sleep Well, To Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE OF AN INDIANAPOLIS GENTLEMAN.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame, and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspeptics often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulations of gas, sour risings, and heartburn.

The meetings of the association are usually held in New York city, but Richmond was selected as the place this year as a compliment to Dr. H. Cabell Tabb, of this city, who is one of the founders of the organization.

The morning and evening sessions were devoted to a discussion of medical questions connected with the insurance business. In the afternoon the physicians took a drive through the city, and visited the points of interest, among them being the R. E. Lee monument. They all agreed that the magnificent equestrian statue was the finest piece of work in bronze they had ever seen. At 6 o'clock the visitors took lunch at Lakeside Park as guests of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

To-day the scientific business of their meeting will be transacted, and the ses-

This action was decided upon at a meeting of the Executive Committee hely yesterday. The reason assigned for adopting this course is that, under the Maupin law, there could be no pool-selling, and owners of fast horses would not enter them. There were not more than two or three cutries for any of the events.
